INTRODUCTORY.

In presenting our Catalogue for the coming planting season, we desire to tender our sincere thanks to our numerous Customers for the generous support accorded us during the past, and, at the same time, to assure them that it will continue to be our sole aim to supply only trees of the highest quality, true to name, and those which cannot fail to be a source of satisfaction to the purchaser.

Customers favoring us with their orders may depend upon being most liberally served, and their requirements will receive our most careful and prompt attention.

Our stock is almost exclusively worked from select fruiting trees. By the most rigid observation and careful selection of buds from fruiting trees, we are enabled to offer a class of tree which cannot fail to give the utmost satisfaction.

It is our intention to reduce rather than to increase the number of varieties formerly catalogued, our aim being to stock only those lines which are of the finest quality.

We have stocks of assiduous and deciduous trees to offer this season, and the quality is beyond question, the trees having made exceptional growth, and are indeed a hardy, well-grown lot, as an inspection will prove.

ORDERS.

We are prepared to book orders for the ensuing season at any time from now on, and such orders will be reserved and forwarded on any date convenient to the orderer; but clients should give us three or four days' notice before they desire their orders despatched, as it is sometimes impossible, owing to rush of business, to execute orders at a moment's notice.

All orders are executed strictly in rotation and it is therefore advantageous to order early and thus secure the pick of the beds.

Orders should be set out clearly and legibly on a separate sheet.
All letters and enquiries will at all times receive our prompt and careful attention.

PACKING AND DESPATCHING.

All packing is done by the most up-to-date methods and under our personal supervision, irrespective of the distance which orders are to be forwarded.

A small charge is made (just sufficient to defray actual cost of material used) for packing bales for rail or shipment.

CONDITIONS OF SALE.

We believe that all trees and plants sold by us are of the description and kind specified by us at the time of sale, but owing to the practical impossibility in many cases of being certain of this, we give no undertaking that such plants will correspond with the description under which they are sold, and we make all sales subject to this condition. We further give no warranty, expressed or implied, as to their growth, description, quality or productiveness, and will not be in any way responsible for the crop. If the purchaser does not accept the goods sold to him on these terms, they are at once to be returned to us. —SWANE BROS.

TERMS OF BUSINESS.

Our terms are strictly nett cash, and all unknown clients must send remittance with order, or provide a satisfactory reference.

All prices quoted in this Catalogue (plus cost of packing if trees are to be railed or shipped) are free on rail at Ryde.

When we deliver trees at the Railway Stations and receive the Railway's receipt for same, our responsibility ceases with regards to rough usage, damage, or loss during transit, etc., as the prices quoted in this Catalogue are free on rail.

VISITORS.

An inspection of our stock is cordially invited, and visitors are always welcome at the nurseries.

PRICES.

All Prices Strictly Nett Cash.

Prices quoted in this Catalogue are as under with regard to quantity purchased:—

Quantities not exceeding 12, at the single rates, and six of one variety must be included in the dozen to secure the dozen rates.

Over 12 and under 100, at dozen rates.

No complaints entertained unless made within 14 days of date of invoice.

Exchange must be added to Cheques sent in payment of Accounts, and Money Orders made payable at Parramatta.

ADVICE TO PLANTERS.

Upon receipt of your trees from the nursery moisten the roots, but do not leave the trees standing in water. If they are all to be planted within a few days, keep the roots covered with damp bagging, straw, or some similar substance. If they cannot all be planted for some little time, place the roots in a shallow trench, about two feet wide and six to nine inches deep, and then shake loose earth in amongst the roots, completely covering them with soil. Firm them a little, and be sure the soil is moist.

PLANTING.

Previous to planting, the land should be thoroughly broken up as deeply as possible. Subsoil ploughing in most soils is to be highly recommended. The ground cannot be worked too much prior to planting.

Remember, the first few years are most important to the young trees, and cultivation is the keynote to successful growth. It is bad business for the grower to neglect trees after having invested his money in them and is also a poor advertisement for the nurseryman.

Keep a good mulch of loose soil around the tree during summer.

After planting, prune the trees, cutting the centres out where necessary, leaving four or five leaders, and cutting these back to within a few inches of the stem, and cutting to an outside bud in every instance.

CHEAP TREES.

Quality in Fruit Trees, as in any other commodity, costs money to produce, but money spent on quality, especially in Fruit Trees and Roses, is, without question, a safe and sound investment. The sole purpose of planting is to produce revenue and to cultivate them so that their revenue-giving qualities increase each year; therefore it is indeed poor business to plant cheap trees from unreliable sources and run the risk of discovering after perhaps five or six years that they are not true to name. The loss in such a case is many, many times greater than the original cost of good trees. We mention the above merely to emphasise the fact that so-called cheap trees are often very costly.

ROSES

A FEW HINTS ON PLANTING.

SOIL.—Almost any soil will grow roses, but a deep, rich, loam is the best, and the deeper it is broken up the better, and if available incorporate any animal manure at the time of preparing soil.

Newly-broken soil is often acid, or sour; but some lime worked into the ground some weeks before planting corrects the acidity. Sandy soil requires regular manuring for roses to do real well.

POSITION.—Roses can be successfully grown where the location is not too much overshadowed. An open situation, but sheltered from strong winds, is best. Too much enclosure tends to mildew and weedy spindly growth. On stiff retentive soils drainage should be attended to.

UNPACKING.—Plants usually arrive in good order, unpack, dip the roots in water, and then cover with a wet sack until planted. If plants should arrive dry, bury them in soil, and keep the spot wet for two or three days.

PLANTING.—Care should be taken at the time of planting, so as to get the proper effect from your Rose bed. Two feet apart is sufficient for the weaker varieties, while a vigorous grower should be given twice that space. Holes should be dug large enough to allow the roots to be well spread out, and deep enough so that the bud is just above the ground level. The ground should be moist at time of planting, and kept so until plant is well established. It is advisable that during the Summer Months the ground should be kept well mulched. Almost any manure will suit roses, providing the plants are first well established.

PRUNING.—Select a few strong, well ripened shoots (the number depending upon the size and age of the plant). These shoots should be short jointed and strong, and the nearer to the ground for dwarfs the better. All the unripened wood and old weakly shoots should be cut away. The remainder should be cut back according to the strength of the shoots or variety; the stronger they are, the longer they should be left, care being taken to cut to an eye looking outwards. Climbers should have all exhausted and feeble wood removed, and where too thick thinned out, and the long leaders shortened, and the laterals cut back to two or three eyes.

TIME OF PLANTING.—Roses can be planted any time when weather is moist; but the best time is from April to August (inclusive).

DISEASES.—Scale should be sprayed with a red oil preparation, while arsenate of lead will effectively kill all leaf eating insects. Mildew and Black Spot may be prevented by regular sprayings of 1oz. sulphate of potassium to 1 gallon of water.
